Schools Give $1,506 to Aid Chest Campaign

High School Student Council Adds $100; Drive Nears Close

A $1,506 contribution from public school children, teachers and other school employees today swelled the Salem Community Chest fund to $41,036.22.

The quota in the chest drive is $61,295 — leaving $20,259 yet to be raised in the two weeks campaign which ends officially next Monday.

The schools phase of the campaigning was more successful than last year, Supt. Paul E. Smith reported. The total was $179 more than given in the schools solicitation a year ago.

The students gave a total of $320.30 — including a $100 gift voted by the Student Council at the Senior High School. School personnel contributed $986.

Community Chest Campaign Chairman Robert Oswald expressed appreciation for the successful work of the pupils and teachers in the schools. He declared the children had set an example for some of the regular Chest teams to follow in winding up their canvassing.

"The next few days are extremely important," he said, calling upon all team captains to spend all day Saturday completing their calls.

Persons who may have been missed in the Chest solicitations are urged to mail their donations to the Salem Community Fund Association, care of the Chamber of Commerce office.

Chest team reports today were: Executive, $24,867.50; Team One, $298; Team Two, $512.50; Team Three, $1,240.20; Team Four, $1,506.70; Team Five, $819.45; Team Six, $3,384.98; Team Seven, $406; Team Eight, $1,122; Team Nine, $939.79; and Team Ten, $145.80.

Fire Damages Bank Building In Columbiana

COLUMBIANA — Fire threatened the Union Banking Co. building on S. Main St. Thursday afternoon but was confined to a basement boiler room by the local volunteer fire department.

Originating in the boiler room, the fire was located by officers of the bank who were tracking down a faint odor of smoke. They opened an inside basement door and were driven back by blasts of heat and smoke, they said.

Firemen, called in at 4:30, donned breathing apparatus and entered the room where they extinguished the fire which had spread to the ceiling. Approximately a dozen firemen took part.

"It could have been real bad if it had had a few more minutes head start," one of the volunteers stated.

Apparently the blaze began in boxes of waste paper.

Traffic around the bank building was tied up for a couple of hours as crowds of spectators gathered and water lines were run across streets near the bank.

Mark Klingensmith, bank president, said the principal loss would be due to smoke damage in the building which has offices and apartments on the two floors above the bank's quarters.

11 Contests Before Voters Nov. 3

Little Interest Manifests Itself In City Election

Despite the fact that contests exist in all but one of the city's offices, candidates at the Nov. 3 election have taken little action to dispel the political doldrums which set in following the May primaries.

Although election day is less than three weeks away, the electioneering was confined mainly to personal contact variety until last night when Mayor Harold D. Smith, Republican incumbent, and Former Mayor Dean B. Cranmer, Democrat, shared the speaking platform at a meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Saxon Club.

Most of the voters' attention is expected to be focused on the mayoral race. Mayor Smith is completing his first term in office.

Cranmer served two consecutive sessions as mayor prior to his loss to Smith by 430 votes — 2,338 to 1,908. Cranmer now operates a taxicab.

The mayor's office pays $7,150 a year.

Vie for Council Presidency

In another top contest, Michael Schuller, former councilman, opposes D. H. Mathews for the Council presidency.

Schuller, a Republican, previously served three terms in Council. Chairman of the Columbiana County Industrial Safety Committee, he is personnel director at the American-Standard Division, Mathews, owner-operator of a barber shop.

California Brush Fire Still Raging

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The prospect of favorable wind conditions stirred modest optimism today as 2,000 men opened the fourth day of fighting against a hungry foothill brush fire.

The sprawling fire, blamed on a careless smoker, was still out of control after covering more than 7,200 acres northeast of Los Angeles. Officials said they couldn't estimate when it might be tamed.

But the county fire department said the situation was improving.

The fire was fiercest on its northwestern front, where it pushed into Big Tujunga Canyon. Two to three dozen residents of La Paloma Flats in the canyon were evacuated Thursday night and taken to Tujunga, in the extreme northeast section of Los Angeles. But the fire had reached none of the homes in this area.

Earlier, it had menaced La Canada, Altadena and other communities to the southeast—toward Los Angeles proper. But these areas appeared out of danger today.

The major loss so far has not been in homes—only a few of which have been damaged—but in prime watershed needed as a defense against floods.

Five more fire fighters were hospitalized, bringing the total injuries so far to 10.

Two Traffic Mishaps Reported to Police

Two traffic mishaps were reported Thursday to police.

Richard E. Johnson of 417 E. 8th St. said a little girl ran into the side of his auto at 4:45 p.m. yesterday on E. 2nd St. near N. Lincoln Ave. The girl, who wasn't knocked down, kept on running after the mishap, he said.

Harry Abrams, 56, of RE 1, told police somebody sideswiped his auto while it was parked on S. Broadway Wednesday evening.

U.S. Protests Britain's Plan To Sell Planes

England Would Sell Old Jet Fighters To Castro's Forces

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has protested against Britain's plans to sell outmoded jet fighters to the Cuban air force.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government is dickering with the British for at least 15 Hawker Hunter fighters to modernize his air force. Castro has proposed swapping 15 propeller-driven British Sea Fury fighters for them.

Some diplomatic reports claim the Cubans also are interested in buying a second batch of 15.

In objecting to the deal, State Department diplomats are understood to have contended such deliveries will add tension to the Caribbean area at a time when anxieties appear to be easing.

Castro is reported to have stressed he wants the jets for defensive purposes only, not for any military action against the regime of his Caribbean foe, Gen. Rafael Trujillo of the Dominican Republic.

Both Cuba and the Dominican Republic have bought infantry weapons from West European countries in recent months at a time when the United States has banned all such American shipments.

CD Open House Set for Sunday

Program Planned at Lisbon Fairgrounds

Several hundred Civil Defense workers and observers are expected to attend an open house scheduled Sunday at the Lisbon fairgrounds.

The event is being planned by the 3rd Defense Area staff and the 31st Mobile Support Group.

Leo F. McCarthy, director of 3rd Area headquarters at Allandale, said the program will be a "fly-in eat - out" assembly with fly-in guests landing at Miller's Airport, North Benton, from 9 a.m. until noon.

Guests will be transported by motor caravan for an inspection of headquarters operations at Allandale, and then visit the 31st Mobile Support Group headquarters in Lisbon.

A feature of the fairgrounds program will be a token meal of stew, biscuits and coffee prepared by a mass feeding team which will utilize emergency ovens made from brick, straw and mud.

Civil Defense exhibits and survival displays will be shown.

Guests at the 31st MSG headquarters will see its vehicles, equipment and stockpiled medical supplies.

McCarthy said the formal part of the program at the fairgrounds will begin at 1:45 p.m. in front of the grandstand.

Invitations have been sent to Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, Lt. Gov. John W. Donahue and Nation a.l. county, city and township officials.

The open house is the fifth staged by the 3rd Defense Area which attracted 10,000 persons at the initial program held in Lisbon several years ago. Subsequent rallies have drawn 5,000 at Columbiana, 1,500 at Steubenville and 2,500 at Warren.

The 3rd Defense Area embraces 14 counties. They are Columbiana, Trumbull, Mahoning, Stark, Carroll, Jefferson, Holmes, Tuscarawas, Harrison, Coshocton, Guernsey, Belmont, Noble and Monroe.

Harpers Ferry Marks Anniversary Of Brown's Attack

HARPERS FERRY, W. Va. (AP)—Historic Harpers Ferry today marked the 100th anniversary of John Brown's attack on the federal arsenal.

Brown, violent foe of slavery, led 181 men in a Sabbath night attack which he hoped would rally Negroes to rebel against their masters.

Brown was tried at nearby Charles Town and went to the gallows Dec. 2, 1859. But Brown's vigorous fight against slavery helped fire emotions that led to the Civil War.

Telephone Strike Would Affect 132 District Employees

If a threatened Ohio Bell Telephone Co. strike comes off next month, 132 employees of the firm in the Salem area and 16,437 district subscribers will be affected. District Manager William McKay said today.

Members of Local 4300, Communication Workers of America, voted six to one early this week to walk out on the job as soon as the executive board of the union approved the strike and set a date.

The strike would not affect local dial service.

Hardest hit would be persons who need phone repairs and those who want new services added during the period of the walkout. Person to person calls would be delayed since only the supervisory personnel would be manning the switchboards, the district manager explained.

Involved in the proposed walkout which was triggered by the firing of a traffic office operator in Youngstown, would be operators, installers, repair men and other non-management personnel in Columbiana, Mahoning and southern Trumbull counties.

Local President Arnold Martin said the walkout would be called about a month from now if the union leaders approved the local's action. Work will continue as normal until that time, he said.

Some 887 union members would be involved in the strike.

DiSalle Visits Massillon State Hospital

Past Administrations Blamed For Mental Hospital Problem

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—Past state administrations and not the taxpayers or hospital officials are at fault for the overcrowding and lack of professional help at Ohio's hospitals for the mentally ill, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said here Thursday.

The governor made a surprise visit to Massillon State Hospital—his 27th such visit to a state institution. He said that overcrowding and shortage of professional help are the state's primary problems at the mental hospitals.

Stating that these conditions are the fault of previous administrations, the governor said:

"You can't blame the taxpayer because who has told him about the problem?"

"You can't blame the hospital officials, in most cases, because they have overcrowded conditions, a lack of adequate staffs and lack of funds."

The governor said the state has an organization problem to cure and "needs to educate itself to the problem." He said the problem now is not one of money.

DiSalle was told by Dr. M. B. Holmes, superintendent of the hospital, that the institution has 3,155 patients, but shouldn't have more than 2,200 and it has only 10 persons on the medical staff, but according to American Psychiatric Assn. standards it should have 34.

Dr. Holmes said 60 to 80 persons are admitted to the hospital each month, primarily from Probate Court or the Youngstown Receiving Hospital.

The governor said that since the Massillon hospital is older than most state institutions it has more problems, "but it is not as bad as some of the others."

The hospital, established in 1898, is located on a 1,200-acre tract on U. S. 21 south of here.

Youngstown Mayor Asks Tax Increase

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Mayor Frank X. Kryzan has asked City Council to boost the city's nine-mill income tax to one per cent to help finance a five per cent pay raise for 1,400 city workers Dec. 1. The present nine-mill tax expires at the end of the year.

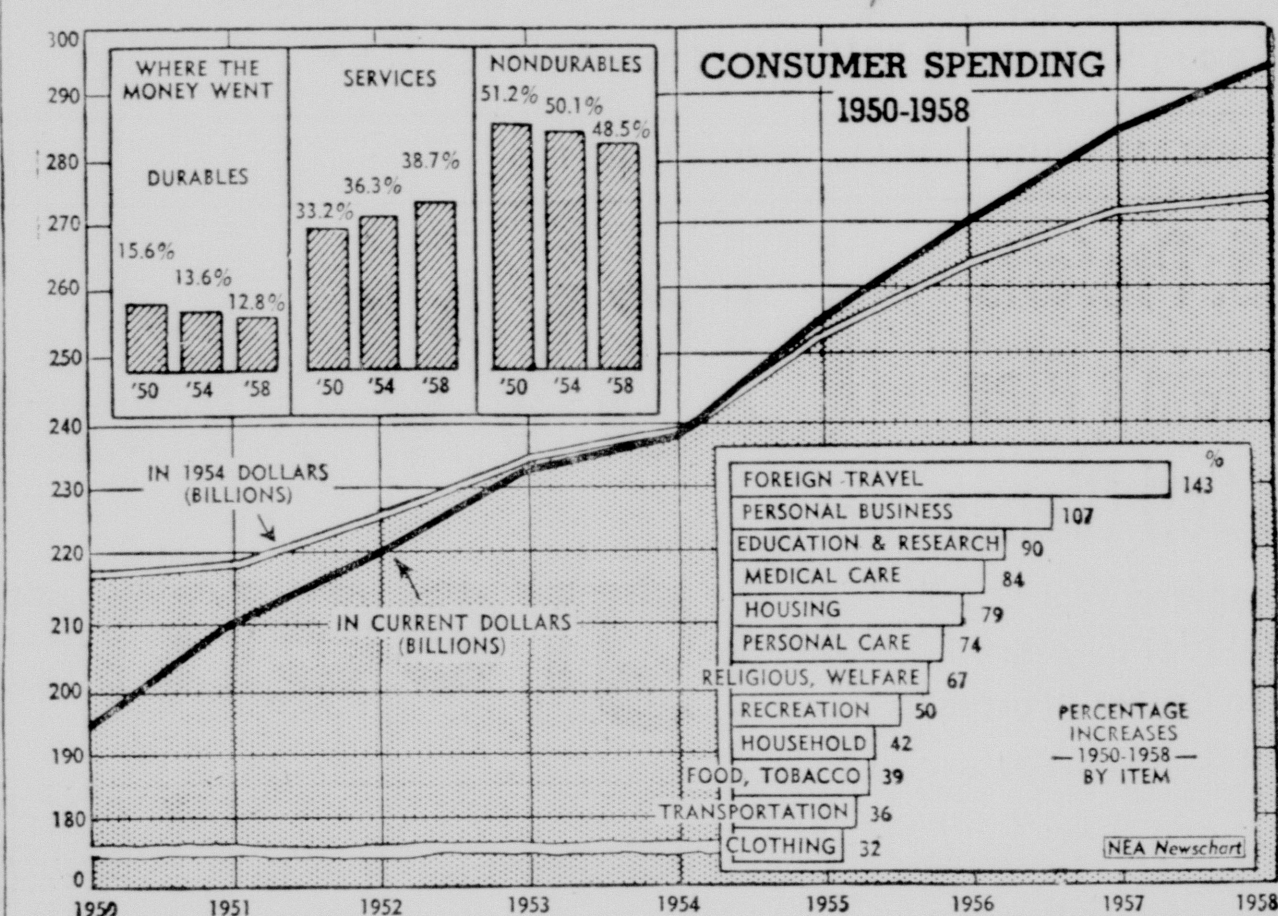

The mayor estimated the extra mill would bring in an additional $450,000 annually. The pay raise would cost about $340,000. Kryzan said the balance would be paid from the $200,000 balance anticipated at the close of the current calendar year.

NEW ZONE PLAN

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Chicago industrial engineer says he thinks rising worry about air pollution will force cities to pass laws creating zones for industry.

Dr. W. C. McCone Jr. told an air pollution conference Thursday that laws might be set up to assign sites to industry on the basis of how well the firms filter out air pollutants as well as the nearness to residential area, atmospheric conditions and other factors.

'Where Did All the Money Go?' ---

Americans spent nearly 100 billion dollars more in 1958 for goods and services than 10 years ago. Last year, consumer purchases totaled 293 billion dollars, compared with 195 billion dollars in 1950 (see Newschart). Even after discounting for inflation, this still amounted to an increase of 57 billion dollars. An interesting sidelight is that spending on foreign travel showed the biggest increase, outranking 11 other selected items. Data from National Industrial Conference Board.

Peace Plan Of DeGaulle Is Approved

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle's peace plan for rebellious Algeria won overwhelming parliamentary approval today after Premier Michel Debre expressed confidence that France would not let go of the North African territory for generations to come.

Winding up a bitter three-day debate in the National Assembly, Debre countered right-wing cries that De Gaulle was giving away Algeria by declaring that any Algerian move to secede from France would be beaten "once and for all."

A threatened revolt against the government failed to materialize. The National Assembly in the early morning hours voted 441-23 to give De Gaulle a free hand to end the five-year rebellion. Eighty-five members abstained or were not present.

De Gaulle on Sept. 16 promised Algeria three choices — integration with France, home rule in association with France, or independence, though he admitted he was opposed to independence.

Debre did not go back on this offer, but he promised that "no force will be withdrawn."

"We must succeed by pacification," the Premier declared. "Pacification" is the word the French use for their military measures against the rebels.

ROCK 'N' ROLL RAPPED

CINCINNATI (AP) — Meredith Willson, Iowa-born composer and conductor, drew a bead on rock 'n' roll Thursday saying, "This rock 'n' roll is on a par with the biblical plagues." He told an interviewer he thinks the music is "just a constant repetition of the same three chords in the same unrealistic tempo." But Willson said he sees some hope in rapid growth of bands and orchestras in public schools and small communities.

Trend Is to Cities, Suburbs

County Population Density 202 People Per Square Mile

Based on recent examinations of population shifts and changes, Columbiana County appears to be "going urban" more rapidly than most sections of the United States.

The move to the cities and their suburbs, which has been in progress for some time, is accelerating, with the result that many people are now living in closer proximity than ever before.

The transition is attributed, in part, to the fact that fewer people are needed to operate today's mechanized farms, hence the decline in farm population. In part, also, it is believed due to the better employment opportunities that are presented in the more industrialized urban areas.

THE CHANGES are noted in studies made by the Department of Commerce, the Department of Agriculture and other agencies to determine how much of the nation's land area is populated and to what extent.

In Columbiana County, it is found the concentration of population has reached a point beyond that of most sections of the United States.

In its 535 square miles of territory, the county now has a density of 202 people per square mile, according to the latest population estimates.

This compares with a density of 53 people per square mile in the United States as a whole and with 122 in the East North Central states.

Not included in the averages are the five counties of the nation in which there are cities above a million.

NATIONALLY, it is reported by the Census Bureau, the cities and their suburbs are growing in population more than four times as fast as the rest of the country.

The biggest part of the expansion is occurring in the urbanized suburbs, points out Dr. Philip M. Hauser, former Deputy Director of the Census. "The growth has necessarily been outward," he explains. "Not only is population moving into the suburbs, but industry, too, because the central city is filled up. And around industry in the suburbs we are getting developments of working men's homes."

Such has been the trend in Columbiana County, where the urban population at the beginning of this year reached an estimated 67,100 as against 59,200 in 1950.

It represented a rise of 13.3 per cent in the period.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

There must be a streak of Madison ave gray flannel in Walter Reuther and his colleagues. Their auto union is just about one million dollars in the red. Yet at their convention in Atlantic City they called on "Labor" to raise a 150-million-dollar strike fund. You can describe that best as Madison ave "thinking big" jargon. The giant auto union is in the red for many reasons, not the least of which is that many Americans are buying small foreign cars. So the auto union leadership thinks global.

Within the next week after their 17th constitutional convention, Reuther will launch a worldwide drive for higher auto workers' wages and lower working hours from Nigeria to India; from Manchester, England, to Malaya. Within a week after his convention Reuther will be meeting with auto and metal workers' leaders from 24 nations.

THESE MEN, ranging from chiefs of unions of watchmakers as well as steel and auto workers, are members of a virtually unknown global organization, the International Metalworkers Federation (IMF). Some 40 of them arrived in New York last Sunday. They sat in on the auto union convention for a day and then went on to Washington to await Reuther. They are the executive committee of the IMF. On that committee are such American labor chiefs as Al J. Hayes, head of the AFL-CIO Machinists, and the United Steelworkers' David McDonald.

What is also virtually unknown in the United States is that Walter Reuther is the most active of the International leaders of the 8-million-member metalworkers federation. He is president of its worldwide automotive division. Thus, in effect, he runs a global union which has recently settled disputes in auto plants in Nigeria, India, Denmark, Malaya and Belgium.

Typical of Reuther's drive to raise wages and working standards abroad, so American companies can stave off competition and maintain fuller employment, is his strategy in France. Competition from Paris is keen. The Renault plants along the Seine now are whipping out 3,000 cars a day. These are practically all for the American market.

FOR SOME YEARS now Reuther and his research people and one or two staff members maintained in Europe have worked in France through the IMF. They've fought for higher wages and American-type benefits. Finally there came "two remarkable breakthroughs" in the French auto industry.

Reuther's people, working with the IMF, won a General Motors kind of contract. This included the unheard of (in Europe) cost-of-living adjustments and productivity increases.

The second breakthrough came when the French metalworkers union (which in Europe has both auto and steelworkers) included in their contracts supplemental unemployment benefits such as those which have cost American auto companies over 100 million dollars. Also won were the U.S. brand of private industry pensions which, when coupled with French government's old age pensions, come to quite a bit.

Of course, this raises the living standards of French workers. As realists, we know, too, that the increased costs (to such companies as Renault) also close the gap between the price of American small cars and the French products.

WHAT REUTHER WANTS of the visiting labor leaders is an energetic drive in 25 nations to keep this process going.

As he and his colleagues put it in their report to their convention the other day:

"The problem is to devise a mechanism to encourage consistent advance for a world-wide standard from a situation today in which hours range from 60 or more a week in some Asian countries to 40 per week in the United States, while wages in the auto industry, for example, extend from 69 cents an hour in Cologne, Germany, to $2.44 an hour in the United States."

Reuther's proposal is to lower our tariff rates on car imports from countries where wages go up and up.

As I said, there's a lot of gray flannel in Walter Reuther's professional overall.

UAW Chiefs Get Raises At Convention

ATLANTA CITY, N.J. (AP)—The United Auto Workers convention has given President Walter P. Reuther and other officers pay raises based on a formula which the union considers noninflationary.

The convention voted by a substantial margin Thursday 3 per cent salary increases each year for the next three years. In the auto industry, UAW members get comparable increases each year. They are based on the theory that the industry's productivity increases about 3 per cent each year.

But the delegates by a close vote rejected a proposal to give union officers cost-of-living increases in addition to the 3 per cent annual improvement. Production workers get increases if the cost of living goes up.

Reuther gets $22,000 a year. He was given a $2,000 raise two years ago.

In recommending the 3 per cent increase, Harry Southwell, of Detroit, president of the Constitution Committee, said heads of the Steelworkers and the Teamsters made $50,000 and the committee felt its recommendation was modest.

Before voting to raise salaries, the convention gave Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) a big ovation after he attacked the Eisenhower administration as reactionary and praised the political action program of the UAW.

The 15-minute demonstration for Humphrey, who appeared as a potential candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960, was the most enthusiastic given any speaker at the eight-day convention.

Caution: Democracy At Work

The regular session of the 103rd Ohio General Assembly finished its business only two months ago, but already the courts are well into the task of passing judgment on some of its actions.

The state Supreme Court is expected to hand down decisions momentarily on two matters that have been pushed quickly through judicial processes in order to clear election.

Appearance of the metropolitan federations amendment on the ballot has been challenged because of a technical error in recording the proposal in the House journal.

Straight-line listing of party candidates on voting machines has been challenged because of the constitutional provision for office-type ballots in Ohio.

The state Chamber of Commerce and the Ohio Manufacturers Assn. have served notice they plan to attack the validity of a section of the law increasing unemployment compensation benefits.

Reports from Columbus indicate the strong possibility of an eventual test of the constitutionality of a law by which the Legislature attempted to solve the knotty problem of excess millage resulting from annexations.

And it is a safe bet that still more legislation approved by the 103rd will find its way into the courts.

Those who jump to the conclusion that all this legal battling is prima facie evidence of a sloppy job of legislating are forgetting an important lesson of their high school civics course.

What the court tests actually prove is that democracy is at work. Checks and balances between separate branches of government are more than just a theory on a historic piece of paper.

The legislative branch passes laws. The executive branch administers them, sometimes injecting its own ideas in the process. The judicial branch stands ready to review the actions of both when any citizen feels his rights have been trespassed upon.

The Legislature is free, in turn, to react to judicial restraints. The 103rd passed laws inspired by court decisions on enactments of previous assemblies. Future legislatures will act in response to court decisions arising out of the work of the 103rd.

It is a never-ending process. It is also a natural one in democracy, where nobody is supposed to have the final say.

Deceit on the Airwaves

It is possible Congress might pass a law forbidding deceit on the airwaves. But it isn't a good bet.

Congressmen are not always noted for their sense of fairness. But most of them have savvy.

A law forbidding deceit on the airwaves and prescribing penalties for practicing deceit would have to be drawn with great skill to keep congressmen from getting caught in their own bear trap.

Deceit could be construed to mean "an attempt to deceive," exactly as the dictionary defines it. If a congressman so much as wore a blue shirt in a TV appearance (because blue looks white and white looks gray) he would be attempting to deceive.

If he read his speech off cards instead of giving it off the cuff, as many speakers do, he could be accused of an attempt to deceive. If he brightened up his record a little, he would be in line for indictment.

It is not a good bet that Congress will in-

A Fair by Any Other Name

The Ohio State Fair is in trouble.

Gov. DiSalle has summed up its trouble by raising the question of the fair's ability to justify its existence in its present form.

Many others have been raising the same question in various ways, but always with the same thing in mind.

They all want to give the state fair a chance to prove it is worth the effort, provided the effort is made with more savvy than may have been true in the past.

They all want to prove that the state's legal obligation "to hold an annual exhibit of the agricultural and general productive industries of the state" can be handled in such a way as to please Ohioans and to pay its own way without having to fall back on big-name entertainers and carnival hoopla.

One of the soundest ideas is in a recom-

Professional Nursing

The growing shortage of registered professional nurses was one of the principal subjects discussed at the recent Cincinnati convention of the Ohio State Nurses Association.

Ironically, because of the nurse shortage, many R. N.'s who wanted to attend the meeting were unable to leave their duties at hospitals, but those who did benefited by the seminars on new developments in the healing arts and public health programs generally.

The Ohio Nurses Association is going to try to educate more girls into wanting to become professional nurses so that the growing needs of various communities can be met. The nursing profession is an admirable one and many hospitals throughout Ohio offer opportunities to young girls with high ideals who seek a career of service to humanity.

Once Over

State legislatures and a congressional committee are probing high cost of drugs.

Pills have become a symbol of luxury living. People used to classify the rich man by saying, "He has a yacht." Now they say, "He's so well off he can fill a medicine cabinet." Drug makers rather than druggists are to blame. Probe format:

Q.—You know the aim of this inquiry?

A.—I know the aim but I am not certain of the ammunition.

Q.—You are in the drug-producing business?

A.—Yes, and I wish I had a pill to cure your curiosity.

Q.—Is it true you call them wonder drugs because you wonder how people can afford them?

A.—Why don't you try some?

Q.—I can't afford to be sick in the upper brackets. Why is a pill on the same price level as jewelry and mink, and isn't it true that a visit to the family druggist is like an adventure in high finance?

A.—You can always tear up a prescription and buy bubble gum, cigarettes or a birthday card. Drugs are produced after costly research, experimentation and years of laboratory development. We spend millions before a new remedy is put on the market. Many ailments once serious are now easily cured.

Q.—Yes, but doesn't the cost make the patient sicker than ever. New pills come out so fast my medicine chest gets loaded. How about a trade-in system under which a patient can bring in an old capsule and get an allowance on a new model?

A.—I think you are joking.

Investigator.—You wouldn't if you could see all the pills I have in stock, slightly used.

Q.—When a man is sick and can get something to cure him he doesn't argue over the price, does he?

A.—After paying for the pills he doesn't have enough strength left to squawk!

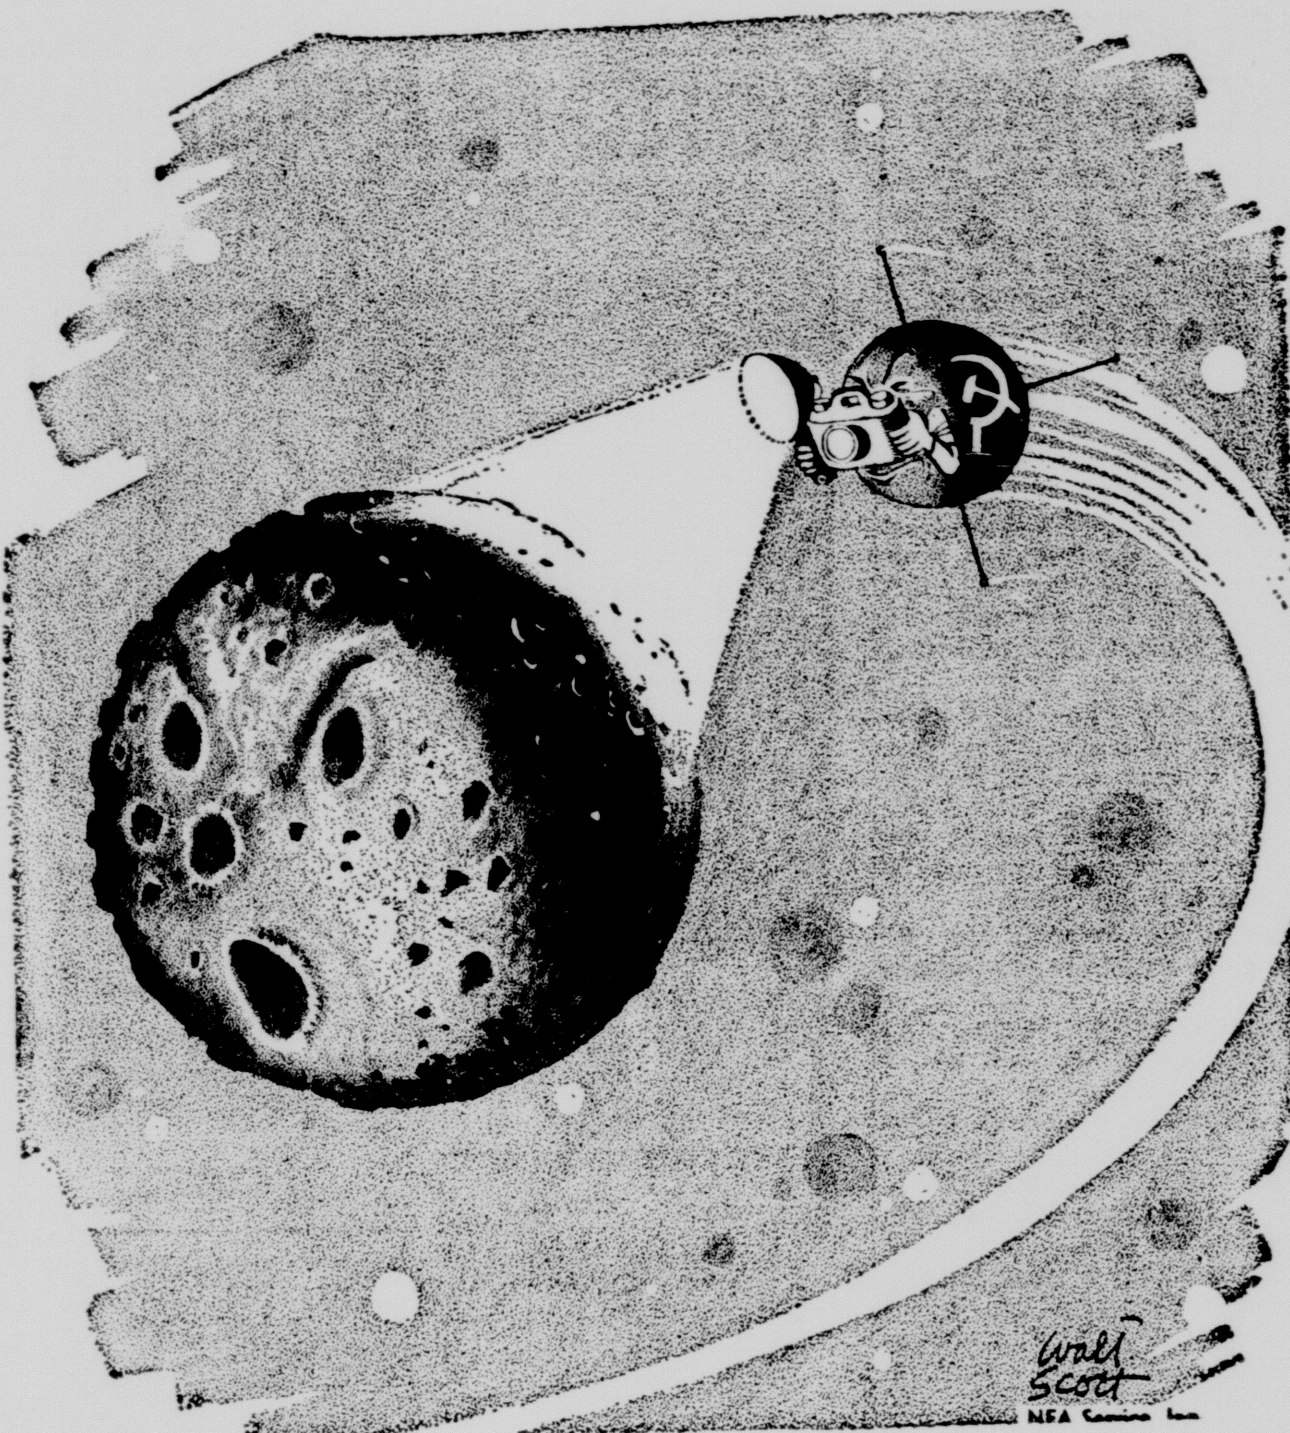

QUESTION for a quiz show contestant: You wanna go on this program or steal money some other way, and without photography?

Analysis of a quiz-show loser: "He is so smart he lost honestly on his first appearance. The third baseball league has rejected Honolulu. It doesn't want anybody stealing second on a surfboard."

Too many colleges are "supermarket playpens," says Columbia president. They get the students who "shop around."

Horrible bus tragedy in which scores of girl students were burned or killed should lead to tougher actions against tank truck drivers everywhere, but it won't. The pattern of tragedy is to be seen constantly on roads all over America day and night, with huge oil tanks brazenly roaring not only through the caution light but the red. Police pay little attention, but concentrate on little fellows who doesn't know one tail light is out.

Nobel, the Swedish Norwegian

By Westbrook Pegler

Alfred Nobel, the donor of the "prizes" which advertise his name, was a vain, smug Swede who invented dynamite with the advantage of Basic public knowledge amassed long before his time. He had struck oil in Romania and had struck oil in Rumania and imperial Russia and he added to his inheritance from his paw a large accumulation of his own derived from explosives and adjacent interests.

All this was before socialism in Sweden where today it is almost impossible to get rich, noting the exceptions of Axel Wennergren and Ivar Kreuger, who manufactured billions of matches but went crazy under the pressure of competition from pilot lights and cigarette lighters.

Matter of Fact

The city named The Hague, is called Graveghave or Den Haag by the Dutch. The name means "the count's hedge." The Hague was originally a hunting lodge in the middle of a forest. In the 13th century the counts of Holland made it their permanent residence. The city centers around the governmental buildings in the Binnenhof or "inner city."

Animals native to the Hawaiian Islands are rare. Only one, a small bat is definitely known to be native. The ancient Hawaiians introduced dogs, hogs and perhaps rats and mice. Sheep, goats, cattle, horses and other animals were brought in after the islands were discovered by the Europeans. There are hundreds of bird species, some of which are found only on the islands.

Norwegians dig in their heels if you tell them Roosevelt had no business rescuing Russia to the end that Russia now presents a far more alarming menace than Hitler could have.

But they don't doubt that Hitler would have dig by now, and that a victorious Germany would have made Soviet Russia pick up the pieces wherever breakage occurred. Of course, labor gangsters would have yowled against this use of scabs, especially in England, but the Nazis, like the Muscovites, had no patience for such folly.

In front of the Nobel Institute, which stands near the new American Embassy, there is a bronze bust of old Alf wearing mutton chop whiskers and a sprig of spinach on the chin. Pigeons and other street fowl roost on it. He must have been a gloomy fellow.

NORWAY AND SWEDEN were a joint nation until 1905 when Norway pulled away in a bloodless revolution. But there was asperity in the parting and Nobel sided with Norway in the Purely gratuitous insinuation that Sweden could not be trusted to administer anything so sensitive and pure as his award for "peace."

Theodore Roosevelt got the first one for the Treaty of Portsmouth ending the Russo-Japanese war of 1904. Bill Loeb, Jr., the son of R.T.'s private secretary, says T.R. and others hustled Czar Nicholas into this untimely because Japan had thrown her Sunday punch whereas Russia was just getting off the floor and beginning to crank up her own Mary Ann. But Revolution was rife in Russia and Nicholas may have known he was licked.

Nobel's self-importance in presuming to "honor" great or merely famous men, always with renown to his own name, is not overlooked in Sweden and Norway today.

These people are not called squareheads for nothing. I would not bet I could fool them.

No Bargain

Conditions Must Be Met In Steel Strike

A tragedy in American economic life is unfolding before the country. Two big and powerful economic forces have come to grips in the steel strike, all the influences of reason and self-restraint have thus far not been able to produce a settlement, primarily because there is no effective communication between the two sides. The federal government has stepped in to attempt to bring about some form of communication — some discussion that is concrete and tangible and devoid of the sparring that so often characterizes collective bargaining.

If what has happened is a sample of what the American people are up against in the battle of big unionism versus big business, a grave situation confronts the nation.

The fact-finding board appointed by President Eisenhower, under the chairmanship of George W. Taylor of the University of Pennsylvania, an experienced arbitrator in labor disputes, already has found one depressing fact. Neither side is willing to negotiate unless certain conditions are met first.

Management, according to Dr. Taylor, has been unwilling to negotiate on any wage demand that would raise steel production costs by more than 2 per cent.

Labor has been adamant in demanding that there should be no change in contract provisions regarding "work rules."

This is the basis of the deadlock that has persisted through the strike.

IN OTHER years, the employers have usually surrendered. This has caused labor-union leaders to assume that if they hold out long enough now there will be another surrender.

But this time it is apparent the steel companies can't surrender because they know they don't dare risk raising steel prices, especially in the face of foreign competition. They know also that, if the steel settlement sets in motion a general raise in wages and prices in other industries, the net result will be to boost the costs of materials and other products bought by steel companies.

The Steelworkers Union is in a weaker position than usual because the strike has been costly to their members and, as it looks now, an 80-day injunction under the Taft-Hartley Act will be invoked.

It is all well enough for union leaders to say they'll strike again at the end of the 3 days, but they don't really mean it.

The end of the 8 days will come in midwinter, at a time when Congress will be in session. The result might be the enactment of legislation along the lines of compulsory arbitration which the union does not want.

WHY CAN'T an agreement be negotiated by reasonable men? Dr. Taylor, at the board's hearing, demanded of steelworkers president David McDonald, to say whether the union's position on wages was "negotiable." When he answered, "Yes," the employer representative, R. Conrad Cooper, said:

"We have come all this way for Mr. McDonald to say his wage demands are negotiable. It has not been so in the meetings we have had."

Strictly speaking, the union can say now it has been willing to "negotiate" and be consistent with what it has said before, but there has always been attached an additional condition that "work rules" must not be touched.

Each side has been insisting on "preconditions." This means an offer is conditioned on a concession in another category of demands.

Thus, collective bargaining has been supplanted by a deadlock in which both sides remain firm. Mediation by the federal government's trained mediators has failed. It always will fail if there is no compelling reason to take one side, or the other side, or both, negotiate in earnest.

Must the public wait till one side wears out the other? The public interest is already threatened by the steel strike, and it can be much worse if the Great Lakes freeze and iron ore shipments from Minnesota and Michigan are unavailable for replenishing low stocks in the plants.

DR. TAYLOR doesn't describe his efforts as "mediation" because technically that is a task for the Federal Mediation Service. But, realistically, informal mediation is being undertaken by Dr. Taylor and the other two members of the fact-finding board.

It's a tough job, and the effort would not necessarily be suspended if Taft-Hartley injunctions were granted. Public opinion will play a part in influencing both sides to come to terms.

If this strike cannot be settled across the table the days of collective bargaining may be numbered for big industries. Some form of compulsory arbitration to supplement voluntary arbitration on certain issues may be required of labor unions and management whenever the national interest is threatened with damage by prolonged strikes.

Confidence Game

By TRUMAN TWILL

I cannot get rid of the feeling that someone owes me and everybody like me an apology for the quiz hoax.

Nor can I get rid of the suspicion that the funny business brought to light so far is only a fraction of what would be disclosed if all the wraps were jerked off the investigation.

We'd be flabbergasted. But it isn't likely to happen. Too many people are involved in the confidence game.

"Confidence game"? That's an ominous way to describe it, isn't it?

Webster's says a confidence game is "any swindling operation in which advantage is taken of confidence reposed by the victim in the swindler."

The con men of the quiz shows swindled millions into watching their shows by making them believe there suddenly had set foot on this earth a race of supermen with photographic memories who could produce on demand every scrap and morsel of information that ever had passed through their minds.

I do not say they did this with cynical contempt for the rights of hordes of people who began to despise themselves and often were despised by others as dolts who couldn't survive the first round in a quiz show.

I do not suspect they gave a thought to the impact of this special form of the confidence racket on the eggheads of America, that despised minority whose status had been lower than the untouchables of India and suddenly zoomed into the stratosphere when it became apparent that an egghead might earn as much money by being well informed as other people could earn by being well connected.

The quiz show charlatans owe the eggheads a special kind of apology.

The apology they owe me and everybody like me is routine. They swindled us. They robbed

Your heating contractor should make AVAILABLE TO YOU the following:

- Heat loss of your home calculated to insure the proper size furnace. This will avoid costly fuel bills.
- Have your dealer show a complete layout of the heating system. This will indicate register location, types of registers, the amount of heat being supplied to each room and whether duct work is ample to do the required job.
- Return air is important. Be sure return air registers and duct work will return 10% more cold air than warm air ducts will deliver. This will avoid cold rooms and severe damage to your furnace.
- Beware of prices quoted on job! Know what you are buying! Any heating dealer who does not take the time necessary to do all these things is only guessing! He might guess right but what happens when he is wrong?

A REPAIRMAN WHO COMES WHEN YOU NEED HIM

When you pay your telephone bill a portion of the charge you pay is to cover the cost of making repair calls to keep your telephone in good working order. In this respect utility service differs from service calls that may have to be made to repair other home appliances.

If anything goes wrong with your telephone, due to failure in the equipment in your home or along the line, your telephone company is glad to fix it without making a special charge for a service call. Skilled repairmen work quickly to get your telephone back into service.

Couple this fact with the knowledge that because more and more telephones are being installed daily, your telephone becomes more useful in your calling area. There are no hidden charges and no special billings for ordinary maintenance calls. When you consider the service you receive it is clearly evident that the telephone is one of the "best buys" today. It is a very valuable facility at a very nominal cost.

COLUMBIANA — Village Republicans have announced a seven-point campaign platform — showing one more plank than that of the Democrats — as electioneering swings into the stretch drive for the Nov. 3 vote.

Kenneth T. Gormley, chairman of the local GOP organization, listed the planks as: A pledge to support the President in his efforts to bring about world peace, and in his fight to balance the budget and halt inflation; a pledge for a sound fiscal policy to eliminate waste rather than raise current taxes; a pledge to promote efficiency and economy in the street department; a pledge for the strict enforcement of law and order; a pledge to encourage in all ways the orderly growth of the community; a pledge to use the taxpayer's money for the formulation of a comprehensive plan for the construction and improvement of the storm sewers.

Corn Price Support Rate Unchanged

LISBON — The price support rate on 1959 crop corn in Columbiana County will remain at $1.21 a bushel, unchanged from the minimum rate announced several weeks ago, Earl Lora of the County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation office announced today.

As provided by law, the support price reflects 90 per cent of the average price of $1.25 per bushel received by farmers for corn during the three calendar years 1956-58. A minimum price was announced in February as a guide to the farmers in advance of planting, subject to reassessment at the beginning of the marketing year. Current information indicates no change in the rate.

Under the present corn program, there are no acreage allotments, and corn produced anywhere in the United States in 1959 that meets quality and storage requirements is eligible for support at the same national average level, with adjustments for grade, quality, location and other factors. As in past programs, corn will be supported through loans and purchase agreements available from harvest time through May 31, 1960. Loans will mature July 31, 1960 Lora said.

GOP contenders are Carl C. Abe, Arthur L. Hanna and Frank L. Byerley.

Hanna, who has occupied a Council post for three terms, is an industrial and commercial parts supervisor at Myers Equipment Corp. at Canfield.

A factory accountant at the Deming Co., Mr. Abe served on Council four terms.

Rudolph M. Linder (R) and Albert Lesch oppose each other in the race for First Ward councilman.

Linder is completing his eighth year as a councilman, and previously served four years as Council clerk. He is an assistant sales manager at the Salem China Co. Lesch, a Democrat, is an enameeler at the Eljer Co. He has not held public office.

Aspirants to the Second Ward councilman post are Donald C. Cannon (R) and Mrs. Frances Hanan (D).

South Pole Talks Loom As Success

WASHINGTON (AP) — For once, the Soviet Union, the United States, Britain and France appear to be on the same side in an important international conference.

In fact, the 12-nation meeting on Antarctica, which buckles down to serious treaty drafting, appeared to be as certain of success as any such gathering could be at the outset of its work.

A Soviet spokesman credits this to an improvement in the international atmosphere resulting from the recent talks between President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. This is what the Soviet propagandists are coming increasingly to call the "Camp David spirit," so designated because Khrushchev and Eisenhower held their serious policy talks late last month at Camp David, Md.

International cooperation in committing Antarctica to peaceful purposes and barring the machines and intrigues of militarism from that vast frozen wasteland was the theme of the Soviet speech at the opening of the antarctic conference here Thursday as it was the theme of statements by the delegations of the other 11 countries.

Nations participating in addition to the Big Four are Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Chile, Japan, New Zealand, Norway and South Africa.

Speaking for the United States, Ambassador Paul C. Daniels said there was obviously unanimous agreement in favor of a treaty which would pledge all the participating countries to use Antarctica only for peaceful purposes.

Ike-Nixon Conflict Report Is Denied

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has labeled ridiculous a news magazine report that President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon are in basic conflict over important policy questions.

Associate press secretary Anne Wheaton made the comment Thursday after telling newsmen the vice president had an hourlong talk with Eisenhower on "national and international problems of wide range."

She was asked what she thought of the report in the magazine Newsweek, which said Eisenhower no longer consults the vice president on important developments. "I think that's ridiculous," she replied.

Mrs. Wheaton had volunteered that the President asked Nixon to stay on at the White House after a regular weekly meeting of the National Security Council.

She declined to specify the domestic and international problems they discussed. Asked if they had gotten around to 190 presidential politics, she said: "I wasn't there, but perhaps it was included."

Nixon left Thursday for a vacation in Florida. Eisenhower returned from a desert vacation at Palm Springs, Calif., last week, and on Tuesday from a brief visit to his boyhood hometown of Abilene, Kan.

The Jaycees went on record as supporting the 2.6 mill renewal levy and a new 4.5 mill levy which school officials say is necessary to provide additional funds for current operating expenses.

Fitch said he is confident the levies will be approved if the public can be made to understand their importance.

Defeat of the levies, Fitch said, would necessitate a reduction in the educational program.

to work. But it would not settle the dispute. The union already has voted to strike again at the end of the 80 days.

Both the union and the steel companies have presented their versions of the tangled dispute to the fact finders. Four days of testimony wound up Thursday.

Taylor then proposed arbitration. Both sides rejected it. So the chairman called for resumed negotiations before a final open session with the panel Sunday morning.

The union originally asked for 14 1/2 cents per hour wage-benefit gains for each year of a new contract — to match the union says, the gains obtained under its old expired contract. Steelworkers were averaging $3.11 hourly before the strike.

Sources close to the negotiations said there was all kinds of talk among the principals about new offers to be made. The report most widely circulated was that the union was ready to back off on the amount of its money demands—a point the union already has said is negotiable.

Official union sources refused to comment on that report.

Flynn's 3rd Wife, Protege Are Both Arranging Services

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Errol Flynn's estranged third wife and his 17-year-old protege are both determined to take charge of his funeral services in Hollywood.

Patrice Wymore flew here Thursday from Washington to arrange the final rites for the swash-buckling actor, who died of a heart attack in Vancouver, B.C., Wednesday night.

Asked where Flynn would be buried, the pale, trembling Miss Wymore said she is making arrangements to have the body brought to Hollywood.

But blonde Beverly Aadland, who was with the actor when he died in Vancouver, apparently intends to contest Miss Wymore's rights. She said she and the 50-year-old Flynn planned to marry and live in Jamaica after he obtained his divorce.

Miss Wymore, estranged from Flynn for two years, declined to comment on the girl's plans, aside from saying: "She seems to be very busy."

She said that in addition to her plans for Hollywood funeral for Flynn she may arrange memorial rites in Jamaica, which Flynn regarded as his home.

Vancouver crowds flocked to the mortuary to get a glimpse of Flynn's body. Police had to lock the building.

An autopsy showed Flynn had died of coronary thrombosis. The coroner said examination showed hardening of the arteries, fatty degeneration of the liver, and an infection of the lower intestine.

"His was the body of a tired, old man—old before his time, and sick," the coroner said.

Buckeyes Hope to Regain Prestige By Upsetting Purdue

Hayes Making Several Changes

East Liverpool Boy Leads Boilermakers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—There is no tendency to poo-poo Purdue, but Ohio State's twice-beaten Bucks plan to regain a bit of pride and prestige by upsetting the favored five-rated Boilermakers Saturday.

And if they get a couple of breaks as they did in last year's 14-14 deadlock with the Lafayette corps, Coach Woody Hayes' green kids could turn the tables on the undefeated seven-point favorites.

Last season, as Ohio's biggest crowd of 33,481 looked on, Ed Jim Houston and tackle Jim Marshall teamed up for two of the most bizarre six-pointers in stadium history.

In the first period Houston blocked a punt and the big tackle raced the ball back 22 yards for a score. In the second session Houston leaped high to bat a pass by Bob Spoo, deflected it into Marshall's hands, and Jim was off for a 25-yard touchdown.

Ohio led 14-0 at the half, but had a tough time holding on as the Bucks intercepted one pass in the end zone, two on the goal line, and took the ball on downs on the 2 and 17-yard lines.

The two big guns in Purdue's pair of touchdowns will miss this one because of injuries. Out of action are Bob Jarus, fullback who plunged three yards for the first of the fourth-quarter scores, and quarterback Ross Fichtner who tossed seven yards to end Dick Brooks for the other. Halfback Clyde Washington teamed up with Brooks for a two-point pass conversion to tie it with two minutes to go.

In that 1958 scrap Purdue had 22 first downs to Ohio's 11, and outgained the Bucks 374 to 180 yards. The 14-14 tie evened the series for the last 10 games, each winning four and tying two, with Ohio having a 177 to 1517 point edge.

The Bucks, pointless the last two games, rank ninth in offense and eighth in defense in the Big Ten, while Purdue is tops on offense and fifth on defense.

But despite the bleak outlook, Hayes says his team is ready and that it should be a "whale of a football game." Several lineup changes are expected to ignite both the offense and defense.

Bernie Allen of East Liverpool, Ohio, a deluxe passer, will call signals for Purdue in place of Fichtner, while Jack Laraway of Erie, Pa., goes at fullback in place of Jarus. Of the 66 players on Purdue's squad 21 are from Ohio, and only five from Indiana.

Purdue uses a strict platoon system, substituting a full team near the eight-minute mark of each quarter. Ten Ohioans, covering every position except center, are among the first 22 who will see most of the action.

Game time is 1:30 p.m. (EST) and the crowd is expected to be near the 83,000 mark.

Booster Club Sees Ambridge Tilt Films

Following a pep rally for the Quaker football team at Reilly practice field Thursday night, the Salem Booster Club was shown films by Coach Earle Bruce of last week's game with Ambridge.

During the business session of the meeting in the Memorial Building, the club went on record as supporting the two school levies which will appear on the Nov. 3 ballot.

NFL Agrees To Expansion By Two Teams

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — The National Football League is making every effort to add four teams to its 12-team structure—two each in 1960 and 1961, the president of the Detroit Lions revealed today.

"But all the mechanics and cities are yet to be decided," said Edwin J. Anderson, Lions' president-general manager.

NFL clubs voted 11-1 this week for expansion, he said. Anderson listed Boston, Dallas and Houston as the strongest possibilities, with Buffalo, Miami and Louisville also in the running.

The Detroit Free Press said flatly today the two Texas cities would be added to the NFL next year.

"The cities have not been picked," Anderson said. "We've just decided to expand — nothing more has been decided."

"How we'd give them players, alignment and many other problems remain to be settled."

The matter most likely will not come to a vote until Jan. 26, when the league holds its meeting.

The newly formed American Football League already has announced intentions to operate in 1960 with Dallas and Houston holding franchises.

Detroit Dumps Chicago 2 to 1

By The Associated Press
Last season the Detroit Red Wings finished last in the National Hockey League and missed the playoffs for the first time since 1941-1942 campaign. They obviously don't aim to do it again.

They are leading the league with three victories and one tie, with a 2-1 conquest of the Chicago Black Hawks Thursday night their latest achievement.

In the other NHL game the Montreal Canadiens scored four goals in the first period in defeating the Toronto Maple Leafs, 4-2, to take over third place.

Two second-period goals by Alex Delvecchio and some spectacular goal tending by Terry Sawchuk brought the Red Wings their victory. Sawchuk has 29 saves, 15 of them coming in the final period to thwart the Black Hawks' bid for a tie.

Four players shared the scoring as the Canadiens piled up their winning score in the first period. Henri Richard, Jean Beliveau, Marcel Bonin and Dickie Moore found the net. Bob Pulford scored the lone goal for the Leafs in the final period unassisted.

Youngstown U. Cagers Open Workouts

YOUNGSTOWN — Daily workouts for the Youngstown University basketball team began Thursday, with five lettermen and a host of area standouts battling for positions. Coach Dom Rosselli will conduct drills nightly at South Field House beginning at 6:30.

Missing this year are rebounding ace Herb Lake, Jim Gordon and Jim Cramer. Lake completed his college career setting a number of rebound records while Gordon enlisted in the Army. Cramer is attending classes at the Naval Air Cadet training center at Pensacola, Fla.

Last season the Penguins compiled a 19-9 record, grabbing the Ohio NAIA crown for the third consecutive year. This year 26 games are scheduled with the opener at Kent State, Dec. 1. Again this year YU will participate in the Quincy Holiday Tournament, Dec. 28, 29 and 30.

Heading the list of returnees is senior Mickey Yagovich, the 6-5 sharp shooter from Youngstown's Woodrow Wilson. Howard McElroy and Roy Taylor, who saw considerable action last year, give Rosselli a couple of back court men.

Up from the reserves are a quartet of Pennsylvania boys — Bob Chuey (Brownsville), Larry Galick (Springdale), Charley Day (Pittsburgh Schenley) and Ed Korbin (Greenville).

Area boys participating in drills include four from Youngstown and several from the district. Woodrow Wilson has Rich Hovanec and John Pyatnik; Sam Freeman is from East and Marty Pesut from Chagrin.

Jack Tupper from Hartford and Warren's Dennis Shoaf represent Trumbull County while Liberty sends Bill Wolf and Brookfield, Rich Nagy. John Szajkart (Springfield Local), Robert Dougherty (Goshen Union), Frank Alo (Midland, Pa.), John Gregory (Hubbard) and John Mihalenko (Campbell Memorial) are other hopefuls.

only in the first two of those games.

The Dodgers voted each of 29 players a full share of $11,231.18. The White Sox voted 31 full shares, each man getting $7,275.17.

The previous record for a full share to a winning player was $11,147.90, set by the New York Giants in 1915. The Brooklyn Dodgers of 1956 held the previous high of $6,934.34 for a loser's full share.

The Giants and Cleveland due to the seating capacity of Cleveland's Municipal Stadium, split $881,763.72 in 1954, which was the previous high for the players' share. The players participate in the receipts of only the first four games.

The split of the players' cut in series' receipts includes 70 per cent for the two participating teams, 15 per cent to the second place teams (Milwaukee and Cleveland); 10 per cent to the third place teams (San Francisco and New York); and 5 per cent for the fourth place teams (Pittsburgh and Detroit). Of the money to pennant winners, the Dodgers got 60 per cent and the White Sox 40 per cent.

Discord Over Club's Shift Is Heightened

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Congressional criticism today heightened the discord over a possible shift of the Washington Senators to Minneapolis.

Leo D'Orsey, a former Senators director and currently an adviser on financial matters, met Thursday night with Minneapolis business leaders and members of the city's Major League Committee. Later, he left for Washington.

He said he will tell Senators President Calvin Griffith today whether he should stay where he is or come to Minneapolis.

"I'm not telling anyone but Griffith what my recommendation is," D'Orsey said. "If he wants to follow that it's okay with me. If he doesn't, that's his business."

Before he left, D'Orsey blasted Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY) for Celler's suggestion that a Griffith move would bring down the wrath of Congress and a result in tough antitrust law aimed at baseball.

"Such a statement is ridiculous," D'Orsey said. "Clement is only trying to make Griffith a scapegoat. What did he do when the New York Giants, Brooklyn Dodgers and Philadelphia Athletics decided to move? Nothing. Is Griffith's case any different?"

Middies Meet Miami Tonight

10 Unbeaten Teams Meet In 5 Games

By The Associated Press
Fran Curci, a mosquito boat size football player compared to Navy's "22 skidoo" battlewagons, leads the Miami (Fla.) Hurricanes against the Middies tonight in the Orange Bowl to open a king-size college football weekend. The 150-pound quarterback is also the main hope for a revival by the Hurricanes. They won only 2 of 10 games in 1958.

Navy, now 2-2 after winning its first two games, relies on quarterbacks Joe Tranchini and Jim Maxfield to lead its two-platoon attack.

Utah is at Denver in another game tonight.

Saturday, the major unbeaten begin a battle for survival. At least five are good bets to fall. Five games pit 10 unbeaten, including Texas' game with Arkansas, Southern California's battle with Washington and Air Force's encounter with Oregon.

In addition, eighth-ranked Syracuse meets Holy Cross and unscathed-upon Yale travels to Cornell.

Texas, third-ranked after last week's 19-12 victory over Oklahoma, will send an attack headed by halfbacks Jack Collins and Rene Ramirez against a defense as tough as its own. Arkansas, like Texas, has given only two touchdowns. Both have run up 4-0 records.

Southern Cal (No. 7) brings its 3-0 record to Washington (4-0) headed by its mammoth line that tops the conference defensively, and an attack that lags only in passing offense. The Huskies will counter with quarterback Bob Schloredt and halfback Don McKeta, its 1-2 punch to date.

Syracuse, tops nationally in defense, will have its equally high-powered offense tested by a stout Holy Cross line that has given only one touchdown in three games. Both have 3-0 records.

Top-ranked Louisiana State begins defense of its Southeastern title at Kentucky, facing a Wildcat team that has lost all three SEC games and has beaten only Detroit, LSU is 4-0.

Other SEC games featuring top-ranked teams finds Georgia Tech (No. 4) going against Auburn. Unscathed-upon and unbeaten (4-0) Mississippi, ranked fifth, meets Tulane, winner of its last two.

In the Big Ten, second-ranked Northwestern faces Michigan but must go without halfback Ron Burton, out with a sprained ankle, and with a quarterback situation that is in the hands of reserves after Dick Thornton's injury two weeks ago. Purdue (2-0-1), ranked sixth and tops defensively in the Big Ten, meets Ohio State. Iowa (No. 9) sends its high-powered aerial game against Wisconsin.

Tenth-rated Penn State, unbeaten in four games, plays Boston University.

Notre Dame travels to Michigan State in the Television Game of the Day. Unscathed-upon Penn (3-0) plays Brown in an Ivy League game.

Gibson to Direct Athletics at Miami

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Wayne Gibson, 37-year-old assistant football coach at Miami University, will be the school's athletic director temporarily until John Brickels recovers from a heart attack.

President J. D. Millett announced the move Thursday and said Gibson will continue his coaching work, except for scouting assignments.

Brickels, 53, has been Miami athletic director eight years. He was in fair condition at McCullough-Hyde Hospital here after becoming ill Wednesday.

His doctor describes Brickels' ailment as congestive heart failure. He said Brickels will be hospitalized at least one week and must rest at home for several weeks.

Oh'o U. Meets Youngstown Tonight

Top Rung In 4 Ohio Grid Conferences Goes on Line

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's college football teams will be playing for big stakes this weekend.

First place in four Buckeye conferences hangs in the balance as Ohio gridgers plunge into an attractive 23-game program.

Unbeaten Ohio University (3-0) starts the action rolling with a non-conference game at Youngstown (4-1) tonight.

Bowling Green (3-0) gets a chance Saturday to take over undisputed possession of first place in the Mid-American Conference. The Falcons, 2-0 in the loop and tied for the top spot with Ohio U., are favored to whip Toledo.

Findlay and Bluffton, both 2-0 in the Mid-Ohio League, clash in a battle for first place in that six-team circuit.

In the Presidents' Conference, Wayne State (2-0) goes against John Carroll (1-0) while Western Reserve (2-0) is pitted against Northern Michigan in a non-conference scrap.

There are two big ones on tap in the 1411-member Ohio Conference. Unbeaten Capital and its ace scorer Al White tangle with tough Muskingum. The Muskies, 3-1 in loop competition, pose a major threat to Cap's hopes for a title.

Another Ohio Conference headliner pits Akron (3-1) and Wooster (3-0) in a game at Wooster. The Zips upended previously beaten Heidelberg last week and have designs on first place.

Ohio State, blanked in its last two outings, will be out to break a two-game losing streak when Purdue comes to town. The Buckeyes are a one-touchdown underdog.

Cincinnati (2-2) journeys to Wichita, Miami (2-1) takes on Villanova, Dayton (1-3) visits Louisville and Xavier (3-2) plays at Detroit.

Other games: Mid-American Conference—Kent State at Marshall.

Ohio Conference—Ohio Wesleyan at Oberlin; Marietta at Kenyon; Otterbein at Hiram; Heidelberg at Denison; Wittenberg at Mount Union (N).

Mid-Ohio—Wilmington at Ohio Northern; Defiance at Ashland. Others—Central State at Kentucky State; Indiana (Pa.) State at Case Tech; Buffalo at Baldwin-Wallace (N).

Browns Rate As Favorite Over Cards

CLEVELAND (AP) — A nimble band of Texans will be out to upset the odds when the Chicago Cardinals battle the favored Cleveland Browns here Sunday.

On the strength of its 34-7 victory over the Cards two weeks ago, Cleveland is a five-point favorite.

Not all of the Cards are from Texas but there's a fair sprinkling of Texans on the Chicago roster and the entire backfield has roots in the Lone Star State.

Quarterback King Hill and halfback Bobby Joe Conrad are native Texans who played their college ball there. Hill at Rice and Conrad at Texas A. & M.

Fullback Mal Hammack is from Roscoe, Tex., but he played football at Florida.

John Crow, a highly rated halfback, lives in Louisiana but was a teammate of Conrad's at Texas A&M.

There are four of the key men in coach Frank Ivy's fancy offense, which uses double and triple winged-T formations and sometimes a split-T.

Conrad is the team's leading ground gainer, with 159 yards rushing. He scooted 56 yards for a touchdown against the Washington Redskins in the first game of the year. That's the longest run from scrimmage in the National Football League this season.

Salem Frosh Lose To Boardman 38-8

The Salem freshman football squad went down to its second straight defeat of the season at Boardman Thursday.

The Spartan freshman made it five victories in a row with a 38-8 decision.

Relying on a strong passing attack, featured by a pair of six-foot ends, Boardman scored in every quarter. They led 26-0 at halftime.

Dave Capel accounted for all of Salem's scoring in the final quarter. He registered a touchdown and picked up the extra points on a run.

Motorcycle Racing Set at Speedway 45

Light weight motorcycle racing will be added to the track rabbit program Sunday at Speedway 45 on Rt. 45, three miles south of Salem.

The Salem Motorcycle Club is sponsoring the first appearance of the two-wheelers at the twelfth of a mile track. More than 30 motorcycle drivers will compete for trophies.

In addition, 25 track rabbit racers will be shooting for checkered flags in the junior and senior divisions.

Time trials will get underway at noon with the motorcycles and track rabbits alternating heats. Race time is 1:30 p.m.

The Doctor Says

By HAROLD THOMAS HYMAN, M.D.

Doctor Presents Facts About Cold

The common cold is the most annoying and humiliating illness with which your doctor has to deal.

His annoyance and humiliation are increased if he has to interrupt his recommendations to you while he clears his own nose or throat.

Your family doctor is the first to admit he can't "cure" a cold. The most he can do is to ease your discomforts and prevent complications.

He also can reduce the amount of money that's thrown away for useless products. Maybe you remember Benjamin Franklin's advice to readers of his "poor Richard's Almanac," in 1736: "He is the best physician who knows the greatest number of useless remedies."

THESE ARE THE FACTS about the common cold:

It is caused by one or more of a large family of related viruses, many of whom bear little resemblance to their next-of-kin.

Commercial cold and respiratory vaccines, whether taken by mouth or injected under the skin, are of no value. They are mixtures of bacteria that do not cause the common cold and contain none of the viruses that do cause it.

True virus vaccines are now being tried by the U.S. Armed Forces and doctors at the Johns Hopkins Hospital. But they are useful only when cold is caused by one or two members of the large family of cold viruses.

Catching cold has little to do with subfreezing temperatures, draughts, chilling, wet feet or soaked clothing. Aviators afloat on a raft in the open sea and Eskimos living in the Arctic circle do not "Catch cold" unless they meet some one who's giving nose-and-throat-room to the pesky virus.

Lowered resistance has little to do with catching cold. An epidemic will sweep a football squad as rapidly as it goes through a nursery.

Diet has little to do with catching cold. Citrus fruits and other foods rich in vitamin C are pleasant to take. But, unless you're so deficient that your gums bleed and your skin is peppered with black and blue spots, you're no more apt to catch cold than anyone else. By the same token, you won't prevent a cold, lessen its duration or severity, or ward off complications by overloading with vitamin C, or any other vitamin, alone or in combination.

When you develop a cold, you may be sure that the source of your infection was someone who made you a present of the virus by breathing close to you, sneezing or coughing in your vicinity, shaking hands with you after handling a soiled handkerchief, kissing you or being kissed by you.

Later, if you are equally careless, you'll pass the virus along to others and, most particularly, to members of your household, co-workers or classmates.

HERE'S WHAT YOU can do to protect others from catching your cold:

1. Use disposable tissues instead of the objectionable pocket handkerchief.

2. Cover your nose and mouth with tissues when you are in close contact with others, when you sneeze, cough or blow your nose.

3. Scrub your hands after you've used a soiled tissue.

4. Rinse tableware that's been in contact with your lips.

5. Sleep alone. Don't let anyone else touch the pillowcase.

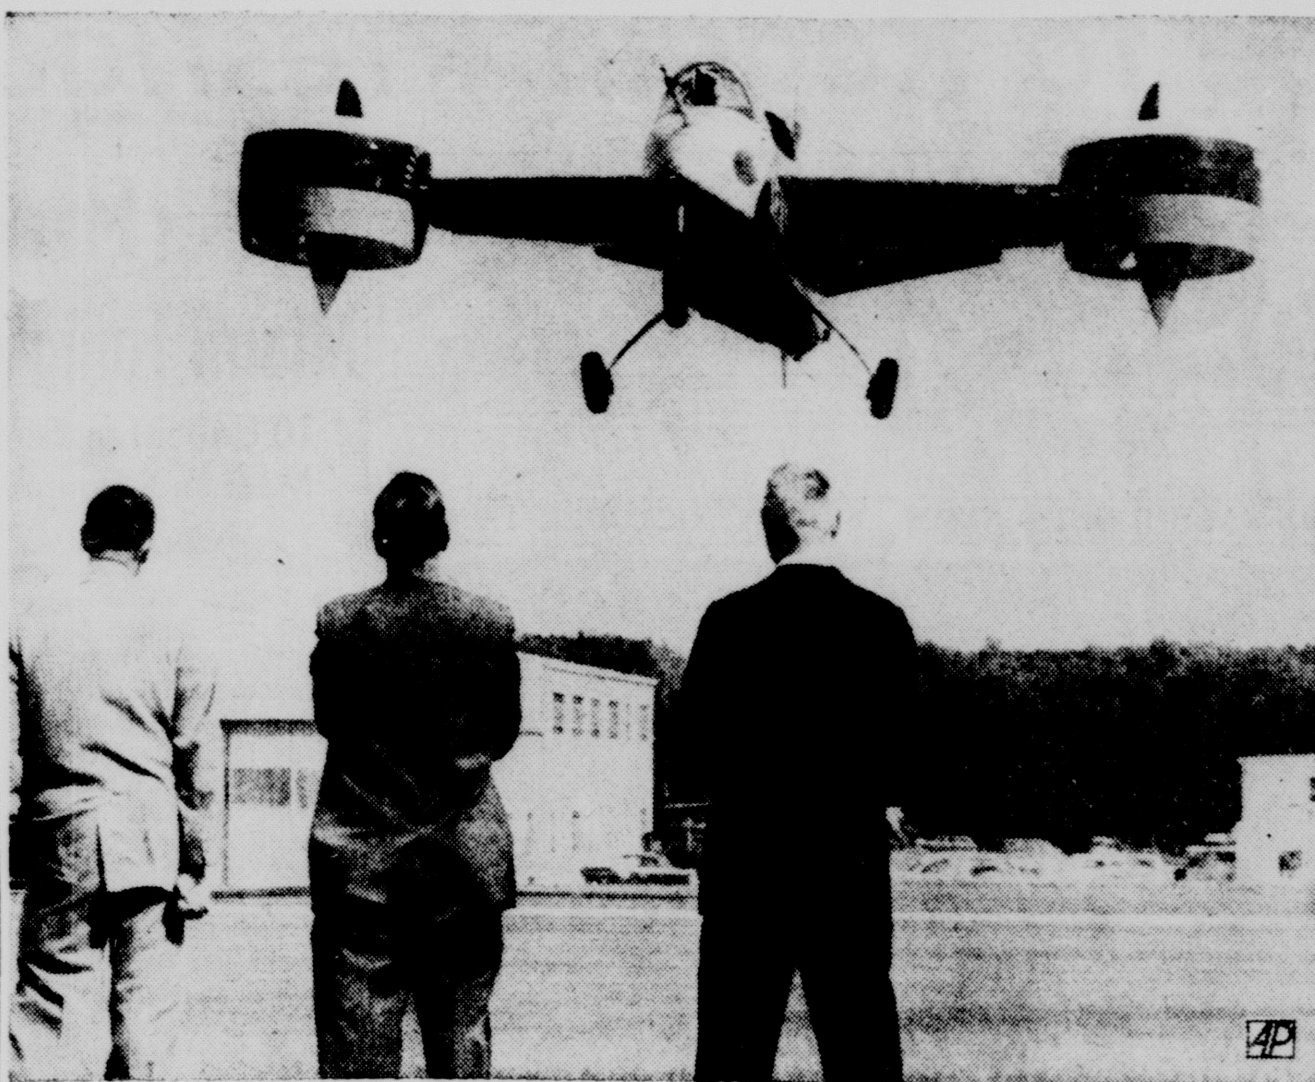

6. Avoid kissing and being kissed.

7. If your household includes an infant, an invalid or an elderly person, remain at arm's length unless you wear a mask that has at least three thicknesses of gauze.

I'LL ADMIT THESE precautions are difficult—maybe impossible—to carry out. But the alternative is the near certainty that you'll spread the infection.

Later, if others in turn are equally careless, you'll probably bring back the unwanted present you gave. Then the infection will bounce around your household from late fall to early summer.

CITY DRIVING

Is Factor In Lung Cancer

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cigarette smoking is "the primary excitant of lung cancer," Dr. Clarence A. Mills reported today—but he added that in the course of a survey he found the "lung cancer hazard to smokers to be more than doubled" if they drive more than 1,000 miles a month in urban traffic.

Dr. Mills, professor of experimental medicine at the University of Cincinnati's College of Medicine, has just completed bringing up to date a 1955 survey of lung cancer among men in Cincinnati's urban and suburban areas.

Dr. Mills has achieved world renown through pioneering studies on effects of climate on society and still earlier work on pellagra.

"Lung cancer rates are now found to be roughly 50 per cent higher since the beginning of 1956 than in the nine preceding years," he reported. "They are in even closer association with the three major pollution factors: Cigarette smoking, general air pollution and liquid-fuel motor exhaust gases."

Dr. Mills found that although lung cancer incidence among smokers more than doubled if they drove more than 12,000 miles a year in urban traffic, "there was no such effect from even greater driving mileages by country men on the more open country highways."

BDR Mills predicted that "this association of heightened lung cancer hazards to high urban driving mileages . . . will almost certainly become more emphatic as motor traffic density worsens and human exposure to its hazards lengthens through coming decades."

"The need for legislative action to halt this increasing health menace seems clear and unambiguous," he said, adding:

The board of directors of the Allegheny County Sanitary Authority ordered the shutdown pending an engineering study in an attempt to correct the problem.

this health problem would seem to include, first, the establishment by the medical profession of safe standards beyond which pollution of urban atmospheres should not be allowed to go, and, second, the translation of these maximum allowable limits into local, state, and federal legislation limiting the output at source of the primary polluting factors. . .

Down on the Farm

Fruit Harvest Off

Expectations for the 1959 apple crop in Ohio declined 150,000 bushels during September, according to the Ohio Crop Reporting Service.

The estimated production of 2,750,000 bushels is 11 per cent decline from last year's above average production and is 7 per cent less than the 10 year (1948-57) average.

Dry weather during August and September in the important growing areas has materially reduced earlier expectations. The hot weather coupled with lack of rainfall has hurt both size and color and heavy premature dropping of apples has occurred in both the northern and southern growing areas. The harvesting of some winter varieties of apples was in full swing by Oct. 1 being somewhat hastened by the warm summer.

The grape crop is estimated at 15,500 tons this year, 22 per cent less than last year's crop which was a record for recent years.

The 1959 peach crop totaled 780,000 bushels, 29 per cent less than last year and 17 per cent less than average. This was the lowest production in 10 years.

Pear production is estimated at 60,000 bushels, the same as last year but 53 per cent less than the 10 year average.

Farm Bureau Makes Study

New farm policies for 1960 were in the making this week as the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation's official policy development committee began first studies of recommendations from county farm organizations.

James Lewis of Hamilton, chairman of the committee which is meeting Tuesday and today, said county farm bureaus already have submitted hundreds of policy suggestions for state and national consideration.

"Our county farm bureaus still are holding their annual meetings," Lewis said, "so we'll be getting more policy suggestions for 1960 to study at our next meeting Nov. 4 and 5."

The recommendations will be the basis for writing the resolution to be voted upon by the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation membership at the annual meeting in Columbus Nov. 9-11.

The policy committee members are: State trustees — James Lewis, chairman, Hamilton County; Lewis Hay of Pickaway County; Ralph Little of Ashtabula County; Sumner Palmer of Henry County; and Mrs. Jay Lawrence of Coshocton County. Farmers who all are county farm bureau presidents, Galen Greenstein of Columbiana County, Wayne Power of Holmes County, Herbert Barrett of Hardin County, James Stevenson of Logan County and James Rush of Fairfield County.

BEEF FEEDING UP

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agricultural Market Service says 21 states show a 20 per cent increase in the number of beef cattle and calves on feed for the quality slaughter market.

In the midwest, where most of the feeding is done, the increase is about 15 per cent over a year ago. In Ohio, it is 14 per cent and in Indiana about 20 per cent.
